

Erika K. Boyer, Certified Financial Planner[™]

After graduating as a government major and a law minor from Skidmore College, I spent nearly 20 years consulting and working with business owners and entrepreneurs in a wide range of industries and professions before joining Edward Jones in 2017. Having had the chance to help businesses grow and succeed in various ways, I welcomed the opportunity Edward Jones provided to forge personal partnerships with individual clients, backed by the valuable support of a national organization, to assist them in taking control of their financial futures.

Whether I'm assisting an individual, couple, family or business owner, I strive to make sure they're asking the right questions and I'm providing the right information. I'm able to service clients wherever they may live throughout the U.S. and I'm proud to offer reliable, responsive and sensitive guidance that inspires clarity, comfort and confidence that I'm working in their best interests.
